TO Shri Ankur Aggarwal IPS Sitapur , Uttar Pradesh 16 December 2025Re: Request to register FIR for illegally sacrificing piglet in Godiyana Manni Chauraha, Sitapur in blatant violation of animal protection laws. MOST URGENT Dear Shri Aggarwal Ji: Im writing to you on to bring to your attention the alleged unlawful barbaric killing of a piglet in the name of sacrifice at Godiyana Manni Chauraha, Sitapur, and to request you to register FIR under Section 325 of BNS, 2023, and to ensure that such illegal sacrifices are prevented and not allowed to take place. The incident reportedly took place on 23 November 2025, between 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm, at Godiyana, Mannji Chauraha, Sitapur, Uttar Pradesh. We are enclosing video footage and photographic evidence that show individuals burying a piglet alive for illegal sacrifice. The video and photo evidence depicting people burying the piglet alive are attached for your reference. You can access the Google Maps location of the incident here: 273449.0N 804018.9E-Google Maps Killing and maiming of an animal is a punishable offence Under Section 325 BNS, 2023, mischievously killing animals is punishable with imprisonment for a term, which may extend to five years or with a fine or with both. Furthermore, any act done by several persons in furtherance of a common intention is a punishable offence under Section 3(5) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), 2023. In the present case, the act of sacrificing a piglet which constitutes a deliberate killing of an animal, which falls squarely under the ambit of Section 325 BNS. Furthermore, the individuals are jointly liable for the offence under the principle of common intention. Their collective involvement in organizing or allowing the sacrificial act establishes shared culpability under the law. As per Section 3 of The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (PCA) Act, 1960, it is the duty of the person in charge of an animal to prevent the infliction of any unnecessary pain or suffering to that animal. Under Section 11(1)(a) of the PCA Act, it is cruelty and a punishable offence if anyone mistreats on animal so as to cause unnecessary pain and suffering. As per Section 11(1)(l) of the PCA Act, it is a cognisable offence to kill an animal in an unnecessarily cruel manner. Under the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Slaughter House) Rules, 2001, notified under the PCA Act, and the Food Safety and Standards (Licensing and Registration of Food Businesses) Regulations, 2011, the slaughter of animals for food is permissible only in a registered or licenced slaughterhouse. Any other sites used for the slaughter or sacrifice of animals are neither registered to kill them nor equipped with species-specific stunning facilities, which are mandatory under the law to prevent causing them unnecessary pain and suffering. In an advisory issued and addressed to all chief secretaries, directors-general of police, and directors of animal husbandry departments of all states and union territories, the AWBI urged strict action against those who illegally kill or sacrifice cows, calves, camels, or other animals (Annexure 1). This is grounded in the provisions of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, 1960, the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Slaughter House) Rules, 2001, the Food Safety and Standards (Licensing and Registration of Food Businesses) Regulations, 2011, and the Food Safety and Standards (Food Products Standards and Food Additives) Regulations, 2011. Killing animals without following the Government of Indias compendium of acts and rules on animal transport and slaughter as required by the 17 February 2017 order of the Supreme Court of India is a punishable offence (Annexure II). (PETA India was a petitioner in this Supreme Court case.) A 2015 High Court of Himachal Pradesh order that banned animal sacrifice in the state had been challenged, and the Supreme Court directed in a 10 April 2017 order that animals could be slaughtered only in an area set up in accordance with the law and that the municipal authority would be required to ensure compliance (Annexure III). Its the principal responsibility of the state police department to ensure that all laws are upheld and enforced. Wed also like to call to your attention the Supreme Courts decision in the judgement issued on 7 May 2014 in SLP(C) No 11686 of 2007 that its the duty of the government to enforce the PCA Act, 1960, and that if the provisions of the act and the directions and declarations of the court are not properly and effectively complied with, the government should see to it that disciplinary action is taken against erring officers so that the object and the purpose of the Act can be achieved. Article 51A (g) of the Indian Constitution makes it a fundamental duty for Indian citizens to develop the scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry and reform. In light of the above-mentioned facts and legal provisions, we request you to register an FIR against the temple authorities under Section 325 read with 3(5) of BNS, 2023 Section 11(1) (a), Section 11(1) and Section 38 (3) of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, 1960 and any other law that may be applicable for the illegal sacrifice of piglet that took place yesterday. I also request that authorities thoroughly inspect the nearby area, as similar acts may occur elsewhere in the vicinity. Thank you in advance for your attention to this important matter. Sincerely, SD अंग्रेजी पठनीय वीरेन्द्र कुमार Vikendra Kumar Animal Rights Activist Animal Welfare Representative (Animal Welfare Board of India-Gov. Of India) Res.
